learn your leadership potential

Learning to Lead™ is designed for self-identifying young women and gender diverse youth in grades 10–12. Participants gain confidence through interactive workshops and activities that help them discover their authentic self and construct a leadership identity. By practicing tangible skills in a supportive environment, participants will leave the program with a deeper belief in themselves and their ability to make positive changes in their lives and the lives of those around them.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Discover your leadership potential and develop the confidence to take meaningful action
- Connect with your authentic self, reflect on what's important, and practice the skills that will help you achieve your goals
- Learn to identify your values and leverage strengths to step into your leadership potential
- Grow your confidence by practicing sharing ideas, taking risks, and learning to embrace your unique self
- Build lasting connections with like-minded peers and mentors

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

- 4 facilitated sessions + free leadership workbook
- Mentor session to connect with mentors from a variety of different career fields

“When I joined Learning to Lead, so many things began to blossom and change.

My confidence grew, more opportunities came to me, and I felt overall stronger. I feel that I have been given the skills to allow myself to keep growing. Minerva gave me the space and permission to believe in myself.”
